We are looking to recruit an experienced finance professional to lead in the provision of end-to-end finance functions for a portfolio of our charity clients, including The Centre for Social Justice and Dallaglio RugbyWorks.

Working closely with each charity, the post holder will lead a dedicated finance team responsible for:

- The provision of routine management accounts and cash flow forecasts.
- Budget building and longer-term financial planning.
- The production of year-end accounts, managing relationships with various stakeholders, including the external auditors.
- Supporting with funding proposals and the provision of strategic advice to the Executive Teams and Board.
- Ensuring that the day-to-day financial accounting activity of each charity is undertaken efficiently and effectively
- Providing financial leadership by continually reviewing and improving systems, procedures, and policies to ensure our charities are set up to succeed.

We are looking for a team player who can demonstrate relevant finance experience, either by qualification or by time spent working in the sector.

Working with a number of charities, this role will require excellent communication and project management skills along with the ability to work collaboratively with many stakeholders, including Board. You must be self-motivated, driven and have the discipline to manage your own time and workload.

This is a hugely rewarding and varied role working alongside some exceptional organisations and, for the right individual, comes with the opportunity to grow as we increase the number of charities we work with.

Flexible working and/or part time hours will be considered.
